not end when that final bell rings; instead, they continue in our memories. Many have helped us to grow and to maintain our sanity in life's journey and we all have learned to lean on one another. As Sarah McLaughlin says in her song, I Will Remember You, "I will remember you, will you remember me? Don't let your life pass you by, weep not for the memories." Heading into the future, the imagination and intelligence we have developed in high school will help us create our celestial dreams of tomorrow. But for now we are the class of 1999, and it is our time to shine...

"He puts a lot of time and effort into teaching his students. He's not just a teacher, he's a friend"- Melanie Chrystal

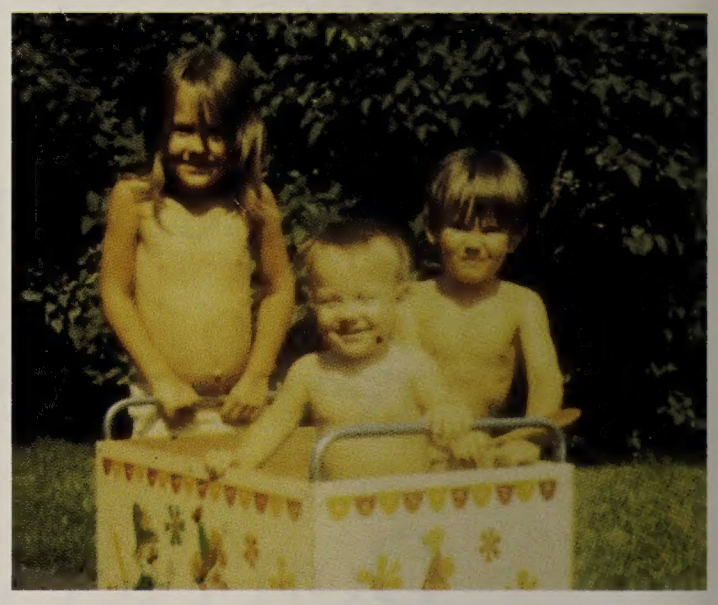

You Light up our Lives

Mr. Chernik was born in 1943 in New London, Ct. He has been married to his wife for 34 years and has three children and four grandchildren. He is a resident of Windsor who enjoys spending time with his family. Mr. Chernik has been a teacher at South Windsor High School for 34 years, and has been a driver's education teacher for 32. He is known as an "all around nice guy" by students and is a favorite of many.

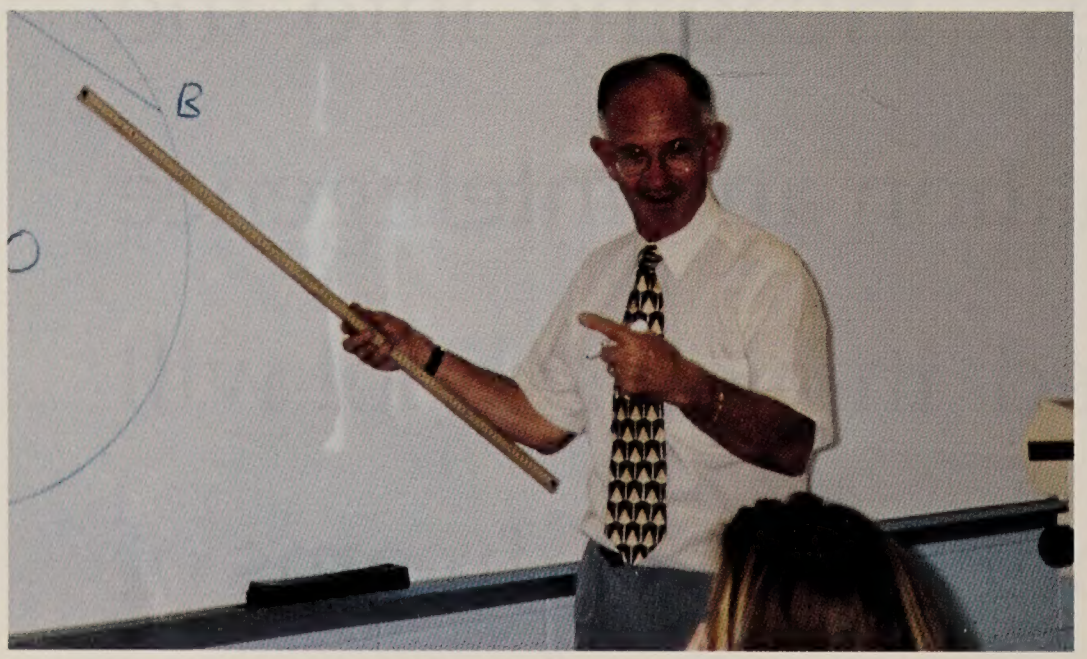

His favorite part of teaching is "the kids." For him, it is fun to watch the sparkle in a kid's eye when learning something new. "I enjoy trying to assist students in working through their issues," said Chernik, "but the paperwork and grading are my least favorite part of my job. The knowledge is what is important. Grading is artificial but necessary"

South Windsor High School has gone under some dramatic changes since Mr. Chernik first began teaching. When he first arrived, the school was composed of 720 students and a staff of 65. "When I first started teaching, the staff went to every activity together. Students couldn't hide anything from the staff because we were small and had developed a nice community," said Chernik of the differences between now and then. "Even though the times have changed, the staff has never really changed. No matter how much the structure of the building has been altered, they have always cared for kids. Everyone has always been nice to me. South Windsor and the school have been very kind and are a part of my family."

After next year, Mr. Chernik will be eligible for retirement. While he looks forward to the free time it will provide him, he knows it will be hard to retire. The thing he would like to leave his students with is that "family is what is important in life." Mr. Chernik is truly a bright star.

Why did students vote for Mr. Chernik?

" He's a wonderful teacher and has a great sense of humor."
-Michelle Desautels

"He was a great driver's ed instructor and teacher and has a lot of patience."
-Shelley Dezelon

"He always puts you in a good mood when your day isn't going great."

All My Life

The junior prom was an event that has given us many everlasting memories. Upon arriving at Chez Joseph in Agawam, Mass. on the night of May 15, 1998, we were full of enthusiasm and extremely hopeful that the night would be perfect. We were happy to come away with the feeling that the experience as a whole was one worth remembering, not only because of the time we spent at the actual prom, but because of the fun we all shared on the weekend as well.

It was gratifying to see that the majority of our class went to Misquamicut the next day. It was a time for us to come together as a class, for we all had a chance to reminisce about the events of the previous night. All the individual groups merged for a little while, becoming more acquainted with one another. Whether the rest of the weekend was spent at friends' houses, at Riverside, or at the beach, it is certain that everyone had a memorable experience.

A Far Out Night

To students at South Windsor High School, Homecoming is a big event. Not only is a lot of time and preparation put into decorations, but also into the creative costumes sported by students. It has always been a night full of fun and excitment, and the tradition continued this year with the homecoming of the class of 1999!

For this year's Homecoming, the seniors decided to venture toward other galaxies, choosing space as the theme for the far out dance. Traditionally, the seniors have been in charge of decorating and planning homecoming . Students and teachers alike had a spacey time at this year's Homecoming; creating planetary fun for all who attended.

Students from all grades wore their finest futuristic garb, including: sparkly dresses and skirts, alien costumes, and any other space-inspired clothing they could get their hands on. Teacher chaperones opted to clothe themselves as Star Trek characters. The gymnasium was crawling with creatures and unidentified flying objects! The night was a great success, with stars and sparkles transforming our gymnasium into an intergalactic planetary universe .

The senior class sure does shine
When we're all dressed up, mighty fine.
But, try as we might
To get all of us pictured,
Some are not.

Life is full of twists and turns which slow you down, but when "girls just wanna have fun" time flies and when I'm "hoping against hope" I know everything will be okay! The Spice Girls, NJ, JL, EP will always be there, but we just need a Sporty! I've got great memories, Prom '98, Irish Love, Cyndi, Camping, Slurpee Runs, the Luau, Kiddie Skiing, charades, desert survival kits, potato chips flavored with bacon, 5 fouls in 2 min., the Yanks game 6 in 1998, softball "games", and Sundae Afternoons at 11 AM. I will always remember my friends but my gratitude is for my loving, supportive parents; without them I would not be who I am today! Enjoy your years Lauren and Peanut.

I was told at the start of freshman year that your High School years will fly by. I never really thought about that and how fast the years go by until now. As I look back on my 4 years at SWHS I realized I have learned many things. I have learned who I am, How to trust myself & who my true friends are. The ones who stick by you through thick & thin are the kind of people you can trust. I'm ready for what lies ahead for me in the future. I would like to thank the teachers & my parents for believing in me & my friends: Trevis, Kym, Steve, Paul, Jesse, Kristina & Doug for being there for me through everything. I love you all very much. Left to SWHS: My little brother, hang in there kid & Rachael.

It is difficult to summarize four years into 600 characters. There have been great times and times I wish to soon forget, friends who treated me unfavorably and friends I will remember forever. My best memories will be of Liz, Sarah, Kyle, Casey and crew, Ashley, Jo, and my best friend, my sister, Chrissie. No matter what happens, she will always be there for me. But we move forward to the future, not knowing what it holds for any of us. I just hope to keep sane and always have a sense of humor.

Destiny, Lins-dog, Tweedle-D

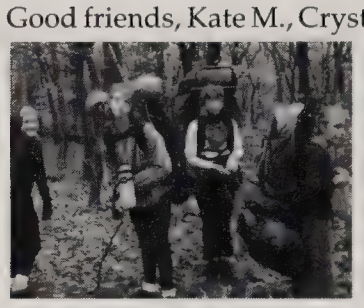

Much love to Brooke and Luigi, who have helped me survive in this twisted world.

Fun voyages with Brooke, Luigi, Michelle R., Anita, and Heather's first. All the crazy parties and driving forever to get to them! Everyone's birthday calls for a celebration. 4:20. Summer of '98 was the best. Much love to all my friends. Don't worry, Kristen, I'll always love you. Thanks, Fate, for making all of my days "just peachy". Tweedle-Dum, don't you dare ever forget me or our crazy days together. I will always keep the memories alive. T-I-double GR-ER-UM, can we say sessions. Try to remember. My ambition is to be well known and to have a lot of pages with my name on 'em. To everyone who thought I wouldn't do it: haha. What now!!

Robyn Hull

Good friends, Kate M., Crystal B., Mora J., if it weren't for your friendships I don't know where I would be. Climbing w/ Adam, Kevin, Howard, Snow, and the rest of the fam fulfilled my days w/ endless excitement. Long bike rides to Dunkin' D. & Sal's, Crows concert w/ MO, mud pitting w/ burg. Climbing guys. Dig iron. Road races, Bear Mt. w/ Chris B., hiking w/ best friend. Good times w/ Colleen B. and Heather. KM & the club. "A mind that is stretched by a new experience can never go back to its old dimensions." /Holmes. "There is more to be learned in one day of discomfort, poverty, and anxiety than in a lifetime of apparent happiness, security, riches, and power." /Anonymous. Thanks, Mom, Dad, Tor, and Sal for your support.

Miyako Ishii

Surprises in United States: Everybody speaks English! (and it's too fast). The size of an ice cream (it made me so happy). The fact that high school begins at 7:37. That we have thick and heavy textbooks and I have to move with them in only 4 minutes. Schoolbuses have no seatbelts. There are many Japanese restaurants (I didn't think I could eat raw fish here!). There are so many surprises that I can't write all of them. Anyway, what I want to say is that I am very happy to live here and to go to this school.

Lavina Jacob

To those who have made these past 4 years worth it: Dev- friends since 6th grade!

What the heck am I going to do without you? Cath, for keeping me smiling. Netka- you owe me a night out, woman. Mer, one day we'll actually get together. Corey, we'll always have 5th grade. Kym, don't forget me when you're famous. AS, KS, HL- my Asian Sista-, JL, MC, ES, Julia, & Julie- you, my lovely ladies, who have seen me through the storms and have put up with it all. Never forget shopping away our worries, pondering life's mysteries in whispers over the cordless, singing backup to Sarah M. and the IG and much needed pep talks. I love you and will never forget you. Dad, Mom, Ligi & Sue, Phil- your strength inspired; your love kept me going.

Though many days have past, more are still to come. Each person spends those days differently. You can advise and guide them in choosing the right thing to do with those days, but the final decision comes from within. Allow yourself to listen to people who care, but value your individuality. The answers to happiness are in you heart, all you have to do is listen! HG: Thanks for the fun times. You have shown me what a true best friend is! DC: Class was always better with you to pick on! To my family: It was a bumpy ride but we've made it through. Thanks for sticking with me. I love you all! To my pooh: Through our hard times we found a true love. We've got time; until the end of forever!

I look back at the past 4 years and see many things. I see Ari, Dan, and Sara sitting around the broom closet table at FPS chatting about state bowl, internationals, aussies and those darn big trophies. I see that Hillhouse girl hammering me with questions at mock trial. I see Mr. Foley at play rehearsal. I see girl's lacrosse through a camera lens. I see the UPENN judge at We The People in D.C. I see exchange sisters. I see our brit lit video, an animated Mrs. Davidson inspiring a class. I see certamen friday. In the summers I see my last year at camp, a spoon fragment in Irel and a moose hunt in Alaska and a spinning wheel at the Webster house. The question now becomes what will I see next? Vale.

Elizabeth Olson

keziah the Avenger, Empress of the Flame

Once upon a time, Liz slept in the x-c champion- curtains after Opening night, unbeknownst to the YTKA. She reveled in the glory of 4 years of French class, crying, "WTF?" or "Merci beau coup", but nothing compared to the all-nighters or midnight walks. Liz loved a Spectrum of music, from soprano sectionals to Shania's band to ZZ and Leiland's Bluegrass to the Vibraslap and percussion people she loved so dearly. She had no internal monologue, but she did have knuckle sandwich for each of you. She damned the man, but in the circus of it all, Pippin never did get the grapes from her. Nonetheless, she knew Peter Pan wasn't gay, so she flew with him to Neverland and lived happily ever after.

For 15 years I've called SW home. In this time there have been so many memorable moments: Growing up w/ Scott, Matt & Justin playing baseball. Great shows w/ Josh, Neal, Scott & Kim. Chilling w/ my brother- Eddie Van Halen! My "girl with kaleidoscope eye" maybe some day I'll find her again. 13 friends in Maine & the whole Maine experience. Mr. Nelson, who taught me how to "see". The endless laughs in the darkroom w/ Andy, Kris, Jamie, Jeff & Willie. Learning to live again w/ Kristen-camping, trips to Boston & just breathing the same air as her. My helpless dancer, I'll never forget. Wherever I go SW will always be "home. Remember "life is what happens to you while you were busy making other plans"- J. Lennon

Despair, terrible and unforgiving was all around. the emptiness complete, the purpose lost. Forbidding darkness lay ahead. To fight it seemed foolish, to accept it was better, I must survive, I must be. I couldn't. Drowning in the ocean of irreversible darkness I gave up, so easy, it felt right, it felt true. The dark over ran me...and there she was, an angel surrounded by demons of evil, hair of brilliant gold, eyes blue like the sea. The despair retreated in defeat, my angel had come and I was surrounded by the light! To my Hunny: I can't thank you enough. You've been my dreams and wishes. The good the bad, I'll take it all as long as the light shines through! Left to SWHS: Lil bro, keep it true.

If I were able to sum up the importance of my high school career in this little space, I would demand to be shot. For the past 4 years I have been built, destroyed, and rebuilt into who I am now, & I plan on continuing the cycle. I love both the construction & destruction for who they have allowed me to become & will allow me to be. Nothing has aided this cycle more than my friends. From monster trucks stuck in my hair by Josh C., to green boxes w/ Sara L. my cycle has progressed. From E. Windsor explorations w/ Catherine to important things w/ Adam. Late night procrastination calls w/ Lavina to London w/ Cath, Lavina, Julie: remember our Itallian stallions, Lavina? The barn w/ Cath, Lavina, Jill to the times w/ Camille. These are only a flicker in my life, but they have helped to make me.

Retirees for the year 1999

Jeannine Gorman

Mrs. Gorman has been teaching English for thirteen years at South Windsor High and it seems she has loved every minute of it. Mrs. Gorman says that becoming a teacher is the only thing she ever wanted to be. As she puts it, "I loved being a student and learning, so I always figured that teaching would be a way to continue doing so, and I was right!" Mrs. Gorman states that her favorite teacher in high school was Sister Laura, her music teacher.

Mrs. Gorman will surely be missed by her former students and comrades in the English department. We wish you great success in the future and hope that you can now fulfill your other dreams, since you have already accomplished the dream of teaching.

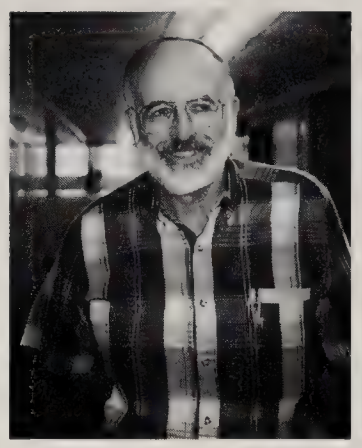

Robert Hopkins

Mr. Hopkins has been teaching at South Windsor High School for 28 years. As Mr. Hopkins puts it, "I love all the parade". When asked why Mr. Hopkins wanted to become a teacher, he states that "it is impossible to know, just as it's impossible to tease about reasons of other important choices. Simply, it seemed like a good thing to do."

Mr. Hopkins grew up in West Hartford, Connecticut and graduated from Choate in 1964. He is also a graduate of M.I.T.

Mr. Hopkins has touched the lives of many students and will be missed in the many years to come by everyone who has come in contact with him.

Peter Luchina

Mr. Luchina has been teaching for all of his career of 33 years right here at South Windsor High. During his 33 years of teaching at S.W.H.S., he has seen 3 different superintendents, 5 different principals, a score of associate principals and four 10 year evaluations go by.

Mr. Luchina decided to become a teacher after "a strike at Pratt and Whitney Aircraft" Also a classmate of Mr. Luchina's was teaching here at the high school and convinced him to become a teacher.

Mr. Luchina is a graduate of Central Connecticut State University, but before attending the university, he attended Ellsworth Memorial.

Mr. Luchina will be missed greatly as one of the CWE teachers here. We wish him the best of luck wherever life may lead him.

Ralph McCarroll

Out of Mr. McCarroll's 29 years teaching in S. Windsor, he has taught at the high school for 25 years.

Mr. McCarroll is the sole founder of the Football program here at S.W.H.S. He developed an outstanding varsity program that over the years has won many honors and distinctions such as winning three CCC-East titles over the years. More conference titles have also been won, which includes the team making it to the state CIAC Finals.

Mr. McCarroll has brought both dedication and achievement in his teaching style. He is a teacher that will be missed greatly. We wish him the best of luck in all that he does.

Sharon Moran

Miss Moran started her career as a social studies teacher right here at S.W.H.S. after graduating just four years earlier from Simsbury High School. Miss Moran has been creatively teaching government and history to hundreds of students in the 33 years that she has been teaching.

When asked what experiences in her life made her decide to become a teacher she said, "My own high school experiences and two teachers I had told me that teaching would be an exciting and rewarding career."- and we think that those mentoring teachers were right.

Miss Moran is decidely an unforgettable teacher. So, indeed Miss Moran will be sorely missed by all who have come in contact with her in her teaching career.

Mr. Williams - Security Guard

WHAT IS YOUR FONDEST MEMORY FROM HIGH SCHOOL?...

"Senior year- all of the activities you are involved in (outing, graduation, senior ball- great friends) I didn't want it to end!"
- Mrs. Higgins

"One of the most influential experiences I had in high school was the opportunity to spend a summer in France, apart from my family, and with a French family that spoke almost no English. Not only did I learn many survival skills, but I was able to find a passion toward which I could pursue my studies in college." - Mr. Bouchard

"We had a very strong sense of community and school spirit. Basketball games were attended by the entire student body and always ended with the singing of the school song." - Mrs. Rizzo

"Mrs.Wood's AP calculus class, The Sound of Music, Grease, The Wiz, band, football, and The Acting Company."
- Mr. Henriques

"As a school commited to the development of a person's mind and spirit, i fondly recall our lively discussions during Religion class about matters we found very important. Those discussions would spill over outside the classroom, and i recall that the school's culture nurtured such inquiry. It was "cool" to study, to question, and to learn." -Mr. Harak

"The Brothers, we played football together and were in the band and chorus together, We also always 'hung' together on the weekends and vacations." - Mr. Graner

"Meeting my husband in English class while reading Shakespeare!"
-Mrs. Batrna

"I feel that being a student-athlete was the highlight for me. I was an all-state volleyball player my senior year; along with earning the Biology award that year with the highest average for all the Bio. classes. Those two things were a great influence for my future choices in college"
- Ms. Rezendes

CAN YOU GUESS WHO THESE TEACHERS ARE?....OKAY OKAY, WE'LL GIVE YOU A HINT!

Left: 1. This mathematics teacher does not wear these glasses which were popular in the 1960's, but he still has that charming smile!
Right: 5. This popular science teacher does not wear a vest and his matching tie anymore, now he wears plaid shirts.

Left: 2. This soon to be sorely missed teacher had the flipped hairdo of the 1960's, but currently does not wear her hair in this fashion (it's shorter too).
Right: 6. This former S.W.H.S. graduate still wears his shirt and tie to work everyday but no longer analyzes history.

Left: 3. This social studies teacher still seems to have kept his baby face throughout the years of teaching at S.W.H.S. He has aged with grace.
Right: 7. This mathematics teacher does not wear this type of glasses anymore, but still has a sense of style and that smile!

Left: 4. This technology teacher has aged with grace -he still looks the same!
Right: 8. We are sure this English teacher does not have this sweater in her closet anymore, but still has that photogenic smile that everyone adores.

"High School was a lot of fun, but the day they finally allowed females to wear pants (slacks) was a great moment!"
-Mrs. Stone

"Cheering on the South Catholic "Rebels" on the road to state basketball champs in 1974. I was at every game, home and away, and traveled to the New Haven Coliseum for the championship game-that was a big deal back then." -Mrs. Carlson

"My fondest memory is the senior formal dance, called the senior reception. It was my second date with the girl I married four years later." -Mr. Foley

"Doing the twist in the school gym during a dance and having one of the nuns almost faint because of the gyrations" -Mr. Frascino

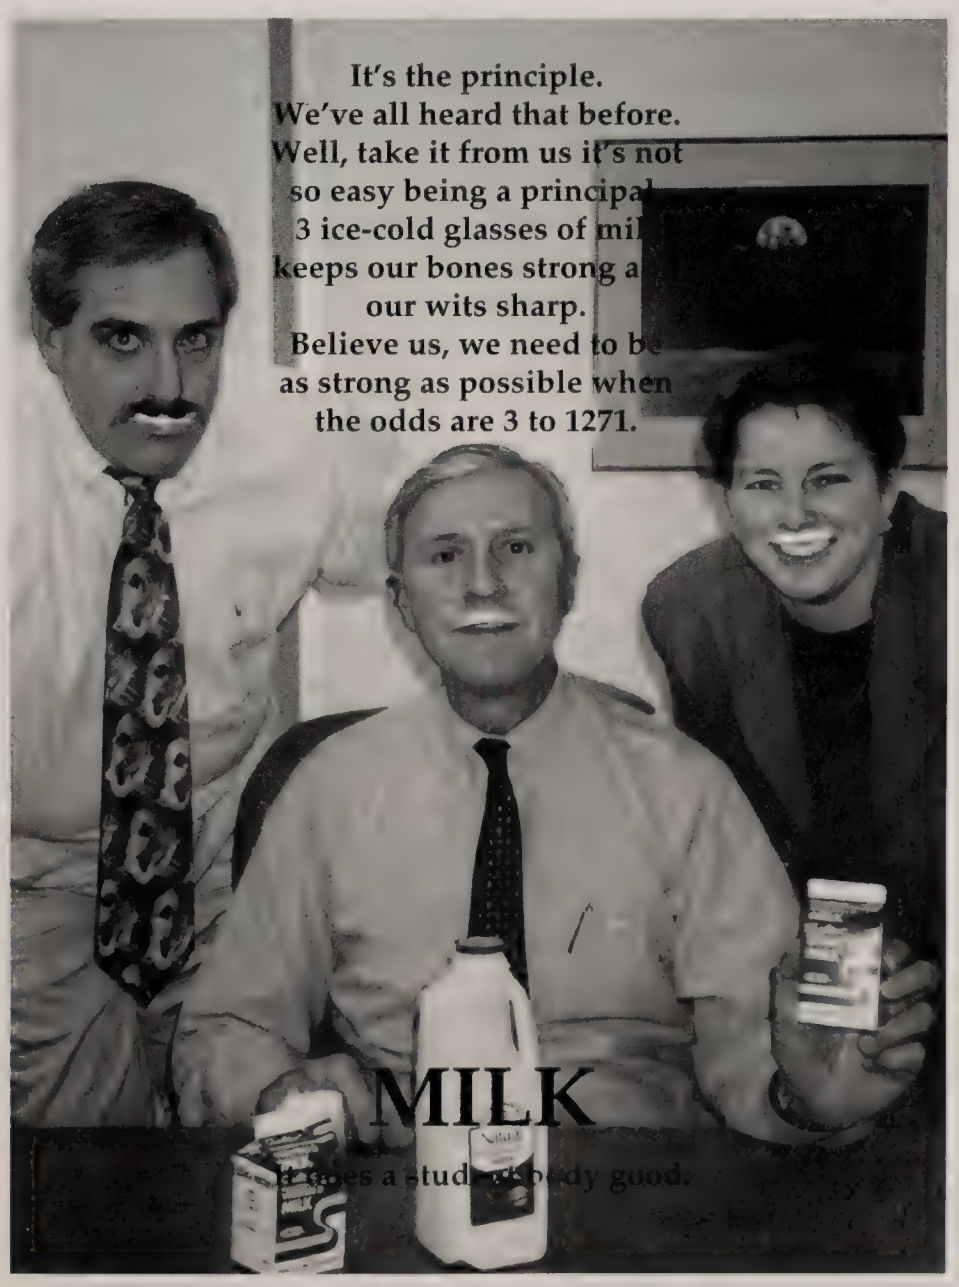

"Getting a ride home from Larry in his Austin Healey."
-Mrs. Greco

"Wonderful friends who shared my enthusiasm in class business and all the extra curricular activities; but most of all I remember my English and Latin teacher, whose character and involvement I have strove to emulate." -Ms. Moran

"All of it. The sixties were where it was at. The music, the war, the cars.-We had it all - I was in plays, musicals, played sports, played in the band, and did the newspaper and yearbook" -Mr. Nelson

"I was a member of the Keyettes Club. Every year we would have a Halloween party for a local orphange. I loved seeing the little kids and bringing smiles to their lonely faces as we entertained them. I'll always remember how we made them laugh." -Mrs. Rafalowsky

"Our senior class trip to Cedar Point was really great. I also enjoyed participating in many musical and theatrical productions."- Mrs. Davis

FOOTBALL

Looking sadly at the record 0-10 would lead one to believe that the team lacked talent and dedication. However, they would be wrong. Due to the fact that underclassmen made up most of the team, the experience level was low. After the loss of a 30- year coaching veteran, the team and the successor, Mike Tyler, had to make several adjustments. Changes were made to the structure of the offense and defense, right down to the way the team stretched out. Due to several unfortunate circumstances, the Bobcats lost four talented and experienced seniors. This situation forced the underclassmen to try and fill their shoes.

After many hardships, the Bobcats also had to find a new quarterback. Coach Tyler looked to sophomore Brian Plourd to get the job done. The team struggled for weeks to develop its new chemistry.

Although the games were lost by score, they were certainly won by the amount of dedication and team spirit. The record they hold in their hearts is 10-0 because from the first whistle to last they fought their hardest. They came away with the lessons they learned about determination which will stay with them the rest of their lives.

HOCKEY

After winning the 1996- 1997 State Championship and winning the 1997- 1998 CCC East championship, the SW Hockey Bobcats continue to make magic. They started the season with practically a whole new team. With the loss of seniors last year, a new cycle has begun. With determination and motivation from head coach Dave Fisher and Assistant Coach Wayne Gineo, they have built up the freshman and other new additions to the team.

The team captains this year, defenseman, Steve Papadogiannis and defenseman Tom Collins have continued to lead our Bobcats with continued motivation.

The Bobcats finished off the season with six wins, not enough to make states. Although, throughout the season they showed great strength and great teamwork.

All in all, the Bobcats' success can be atrributed to a consistent team effort. Despite the loss of our talented Seniors, there will be a lot of experience to lead the South Windsor Hockey team to future seasons of success.

1998-1999 Team Captains

What was the best game this season?

Steve Papadogiannis

" The Enfield game was the best game of the season because we were able to beat the top ranked team in the state."

Tom Collins

"The Enfield game was the best because we came together and played as a team."

WRESTLING

"Considering that we are a young team, I think that we improved a lot as a whole. It was a good year for everyone. The team shows a lot of potential for next year." Adam Platteis, grade 12

"I think that we had an okay year for a team composed of many young players. However they have met the challenge and have shown much improvement." Jeremy Halvorsen, grade 12

"It was a totally new experience. Adam Platteis taught me a lot about the sport. I consider him my mentor." Mike Hallarin, grade 9

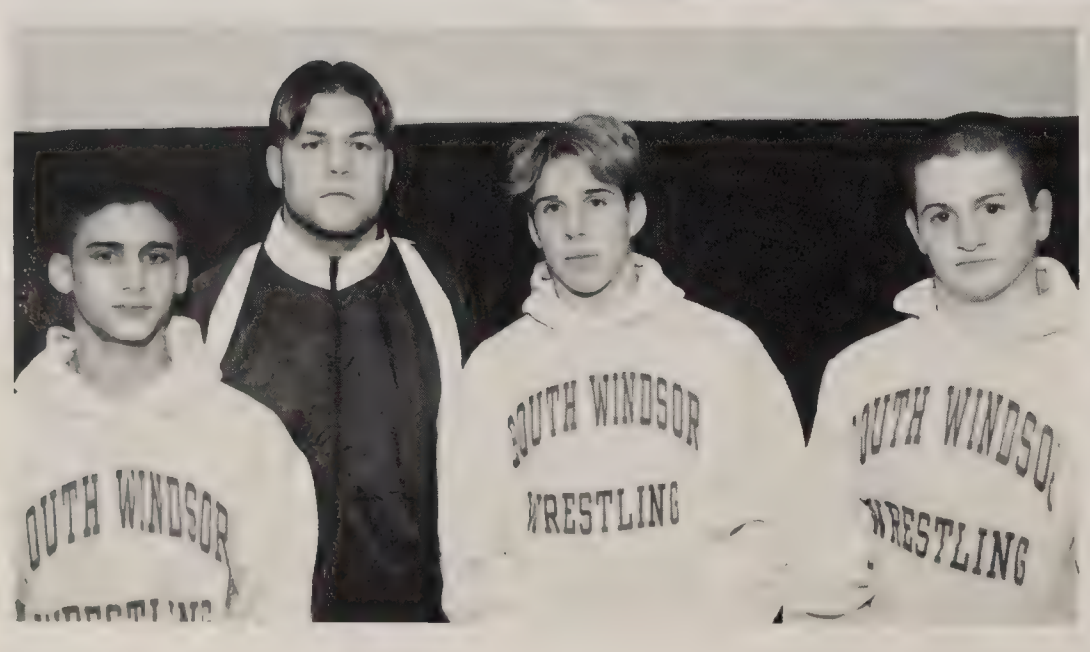

"At first I thought it would be hard to be the only girl on a team composed mostly of guys. But the guys were great because they made me feel like part of the team. I wasn't a girl to them but rather a teammate." Jessica Girouard, grade 9

Cheerleading

The 1998-1999 cheerleading squad had a really difficult year. The season started quickly because they had no coach until September. There was limited time to practice and prepare for games. "We were used to having a team picked in April, some summer practices, and camp. Everything was sort of thrown together; but it all worked out", said Junior Courtney Saitta. Although things weren't exactly as they were in past years the cheerleaders still showed their stuff at all the games. "Cheerleading was definitely a long season, but it gave us a chance to get to know each other and really become a team. I made some really good friends" said Senior Michelle Urso. Overall this season was a huge success. Next year this program is definitely headed in the right direction. Yeah!

Gymnastics

The 1998-1999 Gymnastics Team had an outstanding season of competition. Under the leadership of junior captains Amanda Beaudreau, Jennifer Ruocco, and Amy Slogesky, the team ended the regular season with a record of 9 wins and 6 losses. This record earned them second place in the CCC East Conference, as well as a place in the State Class M Gymnastics Tournament. Freshman Jamie Hartnett was named to the All-Conference team as well as All-State honors. With no graduating seniors, the future looks very bright for gymnastics at South Windsor High School.

Boys' Lacrosse

"I have high expectations for the 1999 Boys' Lacrosse team. With 11 returning lettermen from a team that was 13-5 in 1998, we should be the top contenders for the Division 2 State Championship." - Coach Graham

"We have many talented players returning, and I think we have the potential to go all the way this year." -Ben Cross, senior co- captain.

"I'm looking forward to winning the state title this year, to make up for last year's loss." -Justin Kankel, junior.

Right: Justin Kankel viciously defends the Bobcats by claiming his territory and letting no one by. The crowd gives him a Bobcat "ROAR!"

Girls' Lacrosse

"The Girls' Lacrosse team needs to take the next step, so it's a legitimate goal to play in states again this season. Expectations are higher than last year, but with all the off season work being done, the states is definitely a reality." - Coach Duclos

"Because of the experience, depth, and stick skills, we possess all the tools necessary to raise our play to the next level." - Christina Nockunas, senior co-captain.

"With all our determination and goal setting we'll be successful in our season whether we win the finals or not. It's not about winning, it's about having a love for the sport." - Amanda Morrison, senior.

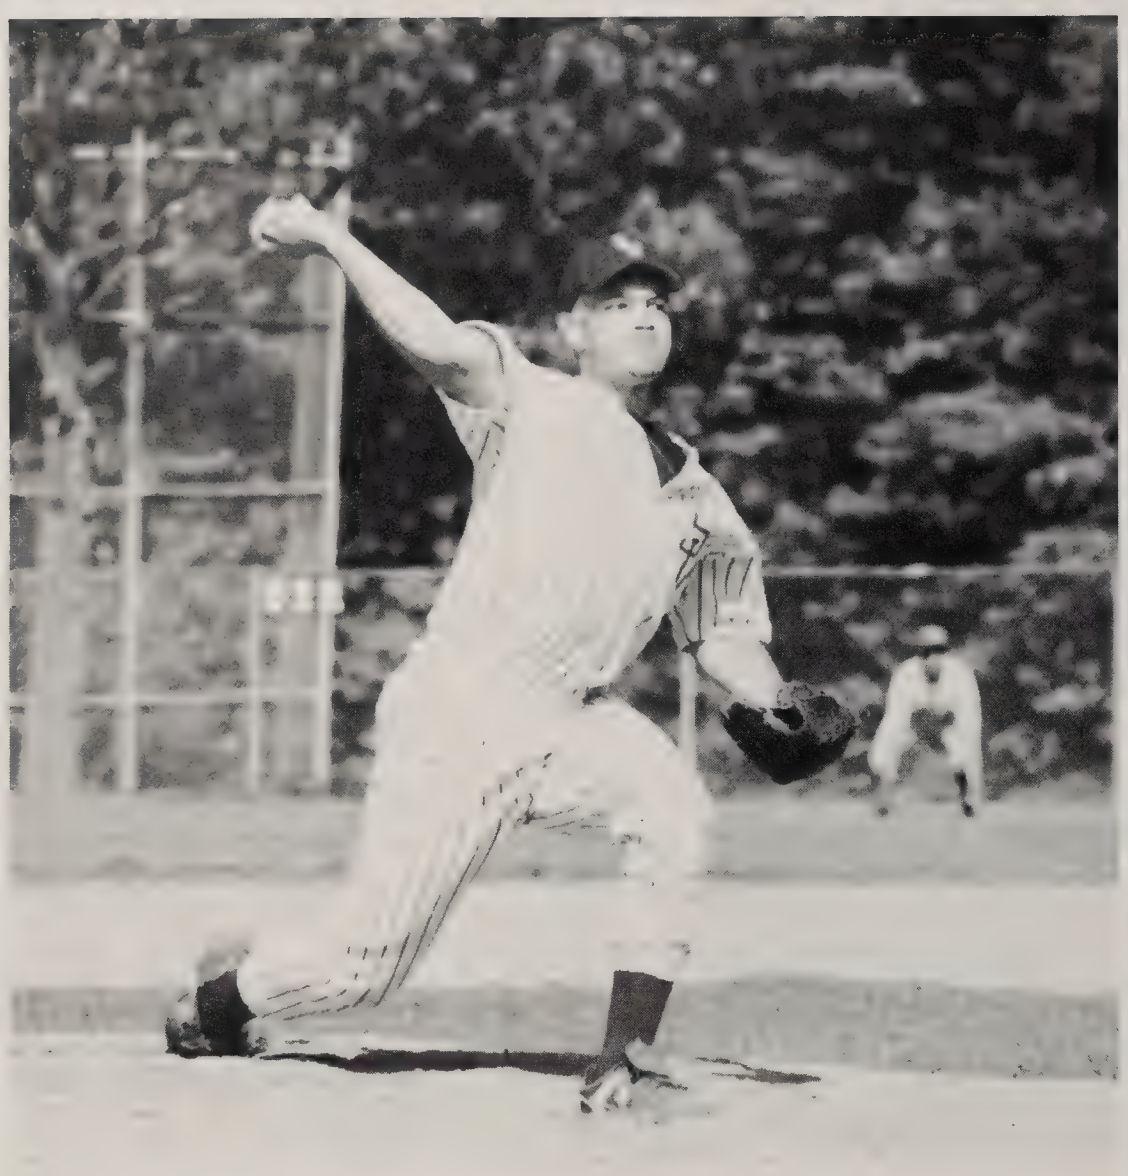

Left: After a win, the girls group together to show their true team spirit and love for the sport.

New Season Holds Many Hopes For Boys' Team

After a strong season last year, ending with a record of 10-4 in the CCC East and an overall record of 12-6, the boys' baseball team hopes to achieve the same kind of success as the previous season. They ended the season in the quarterfinals of the State Tournament, losing to Masuk.

Senior captain Brett Burnham is optimistic about the team's future, saying, "Last year we had a great team and almost went all the way. This year is dependent on a few of the younger players stepping up. With all of our veteran players and our coach we should be a strong contender in the CCC East and States."

Another challenge will be filling the void left by the previous season's pitchers. Mike Gerrity believes the team is capable of meeting this challenge. "With the absence of several starting pitchers, we'll be looking for younger guys to step into more difficult roles. I know we'll have a strong team and our outlook for this season is very positive," said Gerrity.

Determination is the Driving Force Behind the Team

After finishing last year with a CCC East record of 8-6, and a total record of 9-9, the girls' Varsity Softball team has high hopes for this year. With a strong starting team, which includes returning seniors Meg Costigan, Kim Santangelo, Erica Hickey, Nicole Johnston, Meredith Cadiz, Emily Leroy, and Alicia Potash, the lady Bobcats are determined to shine on the field.

Senior Meg Costigan said, "Last year was a sign of good things to come for this year. We played well in and out of our league games and hopefully we'll do better this year as long as we don't meet Amity in the States." After being knocked out in the first round of States last year, they seem determined to come back strong this year.

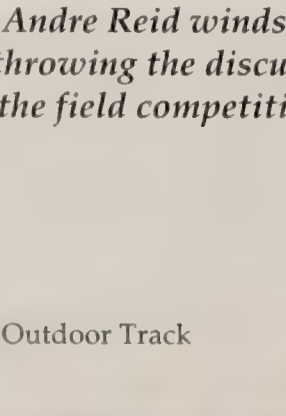

Another priority for this spring will be to defeat long-time rival Rockville, who beat them twice last year. "This year our goal is to work better as a team, and focus on team unity. We'd love to go further in States and especially beat Rockville," said Meredith Cadiz.

TRACK & FIELD

The 1999 Outdoor Track season looks very promising. Those returning from the Indoor Track team are determined to make the spring season even more successful than the last. Dedicated team members such as Danielle Tardif, Shana Yudowitch, Jessica Santangelo, Neal Hannan, and Steven Coakley are only a few of the talented Bobcats who will help to strengthen both Outdoor Track teams this year. Go Bobcats!

"One of the things I will miss most about track is friendship. I have made so many unforgettable friends on the team."
-Shana Yudowitch

"I love track because it allows one to obtain self-satisfaction and individual success.
-Neal Hannan

GOLF

"We should win every match we enter this season. This will be the best golf team South Windsor High School has ever had."

-Coach Myslinski

"The team has more overall talent this year than I have ever seen before. If we want it enough, we should win both a conference and a state title this season."

-Jon DiSalvatore, grade 12

Left: The two Jessicas, Feinberg and Berman, are excited for the day's upcoming match.

TENNIS

"There are high expectations for the upcoming tennis season. The team hopes to win the conference again this year."

-Jessica Berman, grade 12

"Tennis inspires not only me, but the rest of the team to work incredibly hard. We set high standards and in working up to these standards we learn about mental consistency, physical stamina, and competitiveness. I can assure you that this year's Boys' Tennis team will win the CCC East Championship!"

-Derek Connell, grade 12

"This should be a really good season for us. We have a lot of talent and the fact that we're friends makes our team even stronger."

-Katharine Muller, grade 12

Above: Josh Curran sets up to wail the ball across the court with his perfectly positioned backhand.
